

Office Buildings Being Sold For a Combined $70 Million

April 11, 2005

By Joe Clements

Two more prime office buildings are changing hands in metropolitan Boston, with a New York firm placing the Hub's 18 Tremont St. under agreement while local group Intercontinental Real Estate Corp. is buying 117 Kendrick St. in Needham. Together, the deals total more than $70 million in value, providing an encouraging second-quarter start for the Massachusetts investment sales market after an unusually active first quarter.

The entire article may be viewed at http://www.bankerandtradesman.com/pub/5_173/breakingnews/189910-1.html